DETOUR RETURNS
DETOUR is back for its second show at the EEA 133 E. Main St. Gallery & 11 W. Main St. Gallery this summer! Curated by Glen Hansen & Adam Strauss, this year's exhibition features a dozen new local artists- including Rainer Gross, Cliff Baldwin, Anne Pundyk, and Dan Dubinsky - to awe and inspire with a variety of artistic works and artist talks.

Opening: Saturday, June 5th
Show runs through September 5th

MLK SUCCESS
The inaugural EEA MLK Portrait Project was a success beyond our dreams! Thanks to the creativity of local students and the generosity of auction bidders, all five portraits have homes, and EEA raised nearly $1400 for our scholarship fund! These proceeds directly support the education of emerging artists and musicians in need of financial assistance. We are humbled and proud!

Unity through Artistic Collaboration.

EEA Rocks
is for student musicians who want to improve their music with focused rehearsals, introduction to new genres, and concerts. EEA Rocks bands also get public live performance opportunities. Best of all are the bonds formed while jamming out with peers from all over the East End. All instruments are welcome, especially drummers and guitarists. Spring Session is starting - Sign up now before the bands fill up!

TEACHER SPOTLIGHT: KASIA KLIMIUK
EEA’s Teeny Award Coordinator and Theater Instructor

Kasia Klimiuk is a New York-based performance artist, teaching artist, director and arts administrator. She received her MA in Applied Theatre from the City University of New York and recently received her NY State Certification in Theatre at the City College of New York. Kasia has been performing in various mediums for over 20 years, as an improviser, actor, dancer, and singer. Over the last ten years, she has been working as a director and producer with her own theatre company, Our Fabulous Variety Show (OFVS), which she co-founded with Anita Boyer in October 2010. The company has produced over 26 theatrical productions and small showcases throughout the eastern end of Long Island since its inception, with both Kasia’s choreography and direction, and working with both youth and professional performers. She has also co-written six original plays with OFVS. The theatre company has been awarded as the Best Theatre Group on the South Fork of Long Island by Dan’s Papers since 2013 and continues to create unique theatrical experiences and provide educational programming to youth each year. STUDENT SPOTLIGHT: WILLIAM
Vocal Student and Violin Student

EEA’s Student Spotlight for the month of May is William Sultan. EEA teamed him with Kasia Klimiuk, May’s Spotlight Teacher and EEA’s theater instructor, because we are certain this young man will be a Teeny Star in the future. William was just four years old when he began coming to East End Arts so his five year old sister, Elizabeth, could study piano. Immediately comfortable at the school, William keenly began to observe the comings and goings of the different students and their instruments. The following year, at five, William was decisive in his desire to try the violin with Ms. Jeannie Woelker. William was barely as big as his violin, but he immediately clicked with Jeannie and the violin. Early weeks, months, and years were spent patiently focusing on finger position, hand placement and a lot of rhythms. Early recitals were filled with plucking notes versions of a Suzuki classic, I Like Chocolate Ice Cream, but always with lots of smiles. Over time, William, now a 5th grader at Westhampton Beach Elementary School, with a violin that matches his size, has benefitted from Jeannie Woelker's endless dedication and talent, and has blossomed into a beautiful musician. ARTIST SPOTLIGHT: DETOUR II ARTISTS

CLIFF BALDWIN

Cliff Baldwin is an artist, composer, designer, and filmmaker who lives and works in Aquebogue. He has exhibited all around the world but keeps influence here on the East End too. He is the founder of the Aquebogue Contemporary Music Ensemble (ACME) a mult instrumen tal group devoted to contemporary elect racoustic music, who performed at the Rites of Spring Music Festival from 2016-2019 on the East End of Long Island. He founded and curated the Harvest Arts Festival at the 1731 Jamesport Meeting House in 2018, and his ASTRI and LIGO-A-GOGO outdoor sound and video mixes debuted at the Custer Observatory in Southold last year. Cliff’s piece selected for DETOUR is a large scale acrylic painting on canvas hanging from clamps. It’s an intriguing portrait of a face you may just recognize.

RAINER GROSS

Rainer Gross is an internationally prominent artist who splits his time between his homes in New York City, Cutchogue, Long Island, and Cologne, Germany. He is well known for his early Neo-Expressionist paintings and his later Contact Paintings. The piece showcased in DETOUR is from a collection where the artist delves into the world of ready-made signs and images, using likenesses of Mickey Mouse, the logos of major-league baseball teams, and big businesses like McDonalds to create abstract pieces. Rainer cleverly uses symbols of the American way embedded in these paintings, but with a twist. The appropriated images are always significantly cropped, so much so that their sources are not instantly recognizable, if at all, for those who know little to nothing about sports and are not regularly bombarded with advertising. Will you recognize it?

SUMMER SESSION SIGN UPS FOR PRIVATE MUSIC LESSONS

Mark your calendars and save your spot - continuing your lessons prevents that dreaded “Summer Slide”

Spring Session ends May 27, 2021. Spring recitals will be held over Zoom, June 5th and 12th. Our teachers will be available for extra lessons until summer session begins on July 6, 2021. Summer sign ups start June 14th for current students and June 21st for new students. Take advantage of some of the top music teachers on the East End and keep your skills strong, avoid the summer slide! Beginners are welcome as well, it is never too late to learn an instrument. Both virtual and on-campus lessons available. Call the School Registrar to Register at 631.369.2171 or email education@eastendarts.org
